1st Short-term joint staff training event
ANCONA (IT)
15-20 April 2018

WELCOME TO ANCONA!

Some information about the city

- Ancona is the capital of Marche Region, one of the 20 regional administrations of Italy
- It is located in the centre of Italy, overlooking the Adriatic Sea
- Inhabitants of the city are 100.915
- It is a city full of history, monuments and art
- The city is built on an elbow-shaped promontory, and it was founded by Greek people from Siracuse on 4th century BC. Because of the promontory, they gave to the city the name Ἀγκών, "Ankón" that in Greek language means elbow

In the final room of the cave Mancinforte are the remains of two bas-reliefs depicting religious reproduced in the drawings shown to the side in their original form.

They were lost during consolidation work carried out in the middle of the last century; were on the central pillar, on top of a small altar. The same location of the cave, in the past, had been taken over a date (1327) no longer visible because they lost the same occasion.

The caves Corraducci, one of the largest in the complex underground network cameranese depart from the basement of the palace of the same name.

The Corraducci were an ancient noble family in the country before 1400 and had compromised with the French Napoleon before and Freemasonry -Carboneria after the Restoration.

These circumstances have created in the past a number of legends and tales of mystery about these caves that penetrate the rock of SASSONE, going in depth with a number of environments ranging to reconnect with the cave Mancinforte. Of particular interest is the large circular room that the oral tradition indicates as a place of secret meetings.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION
